

The Rabbit and golden Moon

Lulu, a little bunny, lives in a quiet garden and one evening sees a magical golden moon smiling at him. To Lulu's surprise, the moon speaks and invites him to play. The next night, the moon glows even brighter and tells Lulu to hop as high as he can. With every jump, starlight dances around him, beginning a magical friendship between bunny and moon.

Moonlight Magic and a Cloudy Night

Lulu discovers that each of his playful moves affects the moon: twirls swirl stars, spins make flowers glow, and laughter shimmers clouds. He names the moon Mr. Moonbeam. But one night, Lulu finds the sky hidden behind thick clouds and feels sad. Then, remembering the joy of play, he hops and calls out. A sliver of light returns—the moon reassuring him that even when hidden, it never leaves.

Forever Friends

Lulu and the moon continue their nightly adventures. Some nights they laugh and dance, and other times they simply share stories. Each night ends with a warm exchange of goodnights, and Lulu sleeps peacefully, knowing the moon is always there. Their friendship, built on kindness and wonder, lights up the night sky forever.

